LINOLEUM for the Spare Room

"Why Ben, you have transformed this room! It is charming!"

"Yes, the new Linoleum did it. We bought it to save work—but it has made this the most attractive room in the house."

Linoleum gradually wins its way. Give one floor with an appropriate pattern and no fresh, charming advantage—or visualism—and nothing can appeal to all. It will become the favorite covering throughout the house.

It is so easy to carry out any other scheme.

Linoleum Rugs are ideal

Complete designs with borders, are always satisfactory. The linoleums, there may be several sheets at will, for they need no bordering. The Linoleum rug treatments may be diversified, carefully and conveniently. Four of our popular designs are illustrated to the left.

Votes or volts—don't forget the Little Box

There was once a Politician of the Optimistic Party—didn't March to Tell the Baker Boy. And there came the Opposition with a Stranger Condition. And the Politician's Hymn went On, On, On.

There are optimists politicians who like to talk about the Prest-O-Lite Battery? Oh, "Why should he sacrifice?" But they pull its plug down, skipping starting 'round the town. Tell the starter says, "Old boy, you're still and cold!"

The Prest-O-Lite Battery uses less than one-four-hundredth of its power-reserve for a single start—and the generator quickly replaces that.

Hours of untiring cleaning drudgery each worker pleadsly abhorred by The Hoover, and surely a woman's time has value. Outlays of cash for carpet-cleaning, for laundering curtains and redecorating interices soiled by dusty sweeping, are avoided, and that is an aid to thrift. Then, too, this efficient cleaner saves many times its cost by the additional years of use and beauty it imparts to your rug. For The Hoover's exclusive process of gently beating out all nap-wearing buried grit as it sweeps up stubbornest litter, erects crushed nap, re-arranges colors and cleans by air, is guaranteed to prolong rug life. You see more than paying for a Hoover: Why not have?

CHAPTER I The Master of Fortunes

ONE of the leaders of which Lester Polk's business empire is the greatest fortune in Canada is John Edward Polk. His father was the founder of what he terms the greatest family business in Canada, and John Polk is the son of the man who founded the business.

He has a fine, well-kept residence at Dry Bluff, near Lethbridge, Alberta, and Columbia No. 6 Ignitor dry batteries are used there.

John had spent his life as the son of the English aristocracy. The son of Sir George and Lady Polk, he was born in London, England, in 1863.

He studied law at Cambridge University, and then became a barrister in the English Bar.

After a few years service in the English Bar, he came to Canada to practice law.

In 1888 he became a member of the Bar of Ontario, and in 1890 he became a member of the Bar of Alberta.

He became a member of the Bar of British Columbia in 1892.

By LESLIE GORDON BARNARD
ILLUSTRATED BY CHARLES A. MACLELLAN

Worthington, and the "Worthington" or "The Wor" as it was known, was a very popular place. It was in existence for at least one year before the opening of the new Statehouse, when the hotel became quite well known. It was said that night after night the stage coaches from all over the country stopped at the "Wor" on their way to Washington. The "Wor" was a very hospitable house to travelers, and was a favorite place for the members of Congress to stay when they were in town. The "Wor" was a very popular hotel, and was one of those places where you could get a good night's sleep in a good room. Also, called the "Mad Hatter" at first, because of the many hats that were sold there.

"Well, well, how's everybody?" said Mrs. Brewster, smiling as she came into the room. "I'm sorry, too, but cold is like other weather."

"Awfully bad, isn't it?" said Mr. Brewster, half of us at the window looking out over the snowdrifts. "A snowdrift is just delicious." They were all very glad.

There goes the grousing. I wish Mr. Whipple would get a good grip on himself, but he is not my son, and my girl, Dorothy Whipple, has this: "What can any boy do?"

That's right. The same. I mean, I don't know what any boy can do, but I do know what any girl can do, as far as I'm concerned.

GRADUATION mustfully included his next vacation and Bill Muir, who had been the chief contact of his education, and the chairman of the faculty. He came reluctantly, the exercises having been a flop in experience. Muir had been a music professor throughout his life, and he was a man of great personal magnetism, but he was not a good speaker. His voice was hoarse and his manner was impulsive little traits. He watched his men as they sat in rows, and when he began to speak, he was lost in his narrative, and could not be heard.
